WASH DAY PROBLEM

JUST BECAUSE long underwear is board stiff is no reason for thinking Mrs. Julie Ciochetti, 11005-96 street, and other Edmonton housewives find anything monotonous in January wash days. Problem after getting it on line is how to get it back into house.

Late News Flashes

Wanted Youths Caught in South

CALGARY, Jan. 25.—(CP)—Two 17-year-old youths wanted by Lethbridge police for the theft of $175 from a billiard parlor there on Monday night, were arrested by Calgary police today. Police say the youths may also face other charges.

30 Snowplows Clearing Roads

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—(CP)—The provincial highways department sent out all 30 of its snowplows today to clear up highways through Manitoba following yesterday's seven-inch snowfall. Meanwhile, clear, cold weather took the province in its grip.

King Rules India Last Day

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—King George VI ruled over India today for the last time. Tomorrow India will become a sovereign independent republic, the second largest in the world. Only China is bigger.

Fraser Canyon Slides Cleared

VANCOUVER, Jan. 25.—(CP)—A Canadian Pacific Railway spokesman announced today that slides have been cleared in the Fraser canyon, 115 miles east of here and "regular train service is expected to be resumed tomorrow night."

Branches Added to New Dept.

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—The national museum and the government travel bureau are being added to the new department of resources and development, it was announced today.

Plane Loses Engine Over Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—(UP)—A Pan American clipper lost an engine over the Pacific Ocean today but landed safely at Tokyo airport, the airline reported. The plane carried 10 civilian passengers and was piloted by Capt. Murray H. Stewart of Menlo Park, Calif.

Heat Records Set in East

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—(CP)—The temperature reached 53 degrees above zero at noon today, shattering the record for the day, 49 degrees, set in 1916. Hamilton reported 60 degrees, a record for January.

All-Time January Cold Record Seen

Mercury Below Zero Here

40th Consecutive Day

All-time weather records tattered in Edmonton today as a frigid 43 below marked the 40th consecutive day of below-zero temperatures.

Since Dec. 17, temperatures have not remained above zero for one full 24-hour period. This would appear to have broken the previous cold weather record for Edmonton district, established in January and February of 1936, when there was 36 days of continuous sub-zero readings.

EVERYONE SIPS SOUP

Meat bones are at a premium in Edmonton butcher shops because everybody is making warm soup for dinner.

Grocers reported canned soups of all kinds selling better than ever, restaurants said customers order soup first right to a man ... or woman.

"Some people have two bowls of soup," said one waitress, "but you can't give the salad away."

Reports from country points that barbers shop business has dropped. Nobody gets to town. Some Edmontonians (males) seem to have idea long hair helps keep out cold, too. Anyway, it's not hard to get a chair in barbers shops these days.

Edmontonians might narrowly escape a colder fate. Natural gas supplies to city were threatened when leak developed in Northwest Utilities Company main line near Telford.

Imperial Oil Refinery and city power plant gave immediate co-operation to reduce consumption while crews went out to 40-hour weather to make repairs by 6 a.m. today.

Smog-crested low ceiling held commercial aircraft night to Edmonton's airports last night. Only machine to get away was RCAF flight to Whitehorse.

The charter was made in campaign literature supplementing the party's manifesto of policy, published today, which promised British people continuation of their social services, lower taxes, maintenance of full employment and an end to nationalization of industries if the Tories are elected Feb. 23.

The new campaign literature obviously was designed to woo disgruntled trade unionists away from the Labor party, especially those who have been smearing under the socialist government's wage freeze.

The trade unions are the backbone of the Labor party. But the Labor government won only a bare majority recently from the trade unions when they voted on issue to support the wage freeze, which the Tories now indirectly promise to abandon.

The Labor party intends not today but as soon as it can—to establish the complete socialist state, the Tories supplementary pamphlet said.

"The Conservative party wants the workers that collective bargaining depends on three rights—the right to combine, the right to strike and the right of recourse to an impartial arbitrator—and that all of these must disappear in a socialist state as they have disappeared in socialist Russia."

CAN READ ADS IF FEEL COLD

VICTORIA, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—While British Columbia staggered through six major blizzards this winter, each one of which paralyzed the province, the British Columbia board of trade advertisements appeared in current magazines. They read: "Visit stunning British Columbia Golf in January. Don't get out of touch with your favorite sport when winter comes. In B.C. winters are mild."

89,000 Out At Chrysler For Pensions

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 25.—(BUP)—Eighty-nine thousand Chrysler Auto Workers began a nation-wide strike today against Chrysler Corporation. They began the "pensions or pay increases."

The strike halted assembly of 6,000 cars and trucks a day by the world's third largest car maker. "Picket lines for a quick, orderly Chrysler plant in six states."

Compromise refused. Negotiations had met continuously for 24 hours to forestall a mid-winter walkout. But neither side would budge on its chosen method of paying 100 monthly pensions to aged workers or pensioning on hospitalization and insurance benefits.

State and federal offices failed. More than 80,000 workers were called out immediately in Michigan, Delaware and Georgia. Plants in Indiana, California, and Kansas closed at the 10 a.m. deadline came in their time zone.

An additional 10,000 non-strikers at Chrysler will be laid off in a short time and 50,000 employees of supplier firms will be thrown out of work in two weeks.

Long conferences. Negotiations at a mid-city hotel ended hopefully dealmaking as the strike hour passed. The cigarette-strewn tables and unshaven faces were mute evidence of round-the-clock efforts to avoid the first major automotive walkout since the Ford Motor Company strike last spring.

Detwiler Proposal Gets Okay in N.Y.

Preparation of plans for a multi-million-dollar centre in Edmonton has been authorized by First New Amsterdam Corporation of America. Mayor Sid Parsons said today.

He said L. E. Detwiler phoned him yesterday from New York to say the financial corporation's directors had met and given the green light for preparation of plans to implement the proposals made last week by Mr. Detwiler at a series of meetings here.

No commitment has been made by either the city or the corporation that work will go ahead, but the plans should be ready for presentation to city officials within three weeks, Mayor Parsons noted Mr. Detwiler as saying.

The corporation's architect, Mr. Lorimer, also took part in the telephone conversation and asked the mayor about underlying rock formations likely to be encountered in construction, tentatively suggested for the area east of 106 street and north of Jasper.

Mr. Lorimer is chief consulting engineer for the city of New York and was designer of the New York World's Fair.

Preliminary plans will provide not only for retail stores, business offices, and all enterprises except industry and wholesaler, but also a 2,500-seat auditorium, a farmers' market and a museum.

"These are the city badly needs and if the deal goes through it will give to us without the city having to bear the terrific construction and operation costs," said the mayor.

"I don't see why we should not proposition like this, over our shoulder without examining it very carefully when the plans arrive."

Major Parsons emphasized that the project, if it materializes, would be financed entirely by the First New Amsterdam Corporation and its associated group of interests, on long-term, self-liquidating basis. Land needed would have to be bought from both the city and from Williamstown.

Main expense of the city would be provision of express highways from residential districts to new downtown centre, but some civic officials point out that these are becoming an urgent necessity in any event.

Larger Home Markets Seen Need for Alta. Oil

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

Alberta oil men today saw signs in the world oil picture that Canada must give larger domestic markets for Alberta oil and not bank so much on foreign markets.

They saw the latest signs in the pronation news coming out of the State of Texas.

The Texas Railroad Commission is holding a date hearing on new production allowances. The senior member of the Commission, Ernest C. Thompson, says that oil production should be reduced.

"We still have too much oil on hand and no one wants to produce oil that cannot be marketed," says Thompson.

"To add fuel to this situation is a Washington report of a project to import 156 per cent. Representative Palmatier of Texas is reported to have declared: 'This is a serious threat to independent oil producers, while domestic production is being cut almost 700,000 barrels a day.'"

Love Scenes With Bergman Arouse Giggles of Audience

By PATRICIA CLARY
Exclusive to the Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—A movie audience of 600 fans who had come to see Houng Chang didn't seem to like the first public screening of Ingrid Bergman's "Stormbol" it was reported today.

The Swedish star gave up her husband, child and career when she made the picture. It has been described by press agents as her greatest work and one of the best ever made.

"Stormbol" was supposed to display a new, unadorned, sexy Bergman. But a studio executive at the sneak preview said she was sexist in "Stormbol."

"They don't sell it as a sensation. It's definitely not another 'Outlaw'." "There were a few gasps when the title came on, and scattered clapping when it was over," he said. Bergman got a few whistles in one scene when she got out of bed in her slip.

GIGGLE AT LOVE SCENES
Futurism Movie Vibe got a few giggles in impassioned love scenes. The executive said Vibe proves women he signs right that he can't act.

It was reported BKO was cutting out anything that might remind moviegoers of Miss Bergman's latest romance with "Stormbol" director, Roberto Rossellini. The movie is about a refugee

Just a Few Odds and Ends

The mystery of the missing 10-ton bridge in Athens, Alabama, was solved today. The dismantled $25,000 structure disappeared several weeks ago from the banks of a stream it had spanned. Baffled police hunted high and low for it. Yesterday Sheriff John G. Sandlin said parts of the bridge had been found. The metal sections had been sold to junk dealers for a cent a pound.

The owner of Tiny's wrecking company on a highway near Fargo, N.D., got a phone call at his home during last night's blizzard. A man's voice said: "I've just broken a window and entered your garage. The storm was so bad I couldn't go any further and I needed to get warm. May I stay all night?"

Tiny said okay.
This morning employees found a note signed Harold Matson. It read:

"I'll be back to pay for damages."

A 26-year-old man in Jackson, Mississippi, killed by one woman, tied a sheet around his neck last night and threw himself from his second-story window. But he landed smack into the arms of another woman.

Marion Burke wondered why he felt so jerk when he leaped from the window. He landed squarely on the shoulders of a woman standing underneath his window. She hung onto him until police arrived, grunted him and charged him with attempted suicide. You just can't escape 'em.

Jimmy Lynch, Robber's rider, provided the clincher.

Lynch was Mrs. Puhos' maiden name.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain is expected to be given an audience with Pope Pius when he arrives in Rome on his way from the Colombo foreign ministers conference. Bevin is due in Italy Feb. 2.

Bambi, a young fawn found and adopted by a group of Brampton, Ont., farmers last fall, is now a bosom pal of a dog owned by the same group. The fawn and dog play together and several weeks ago when the fawn disappeared, Duke, the dog, took to the road and when he returned, Bambi was trotting along beside him.

Britain still leads the world in ship construction according to Lloyd's register of shipbuilding published yesterday. Britain built 1,944,191 tons in 1949, which was 45.5 per cent of the world's total.

An all-time high in the number of persons on unemployment insurance rolls in the U.S. was reported yesterday. The week ended Jan. 14 saw an increase of 164,000 in claims, resulting the total number of claims to a record 2,415,000.

Police last night seized $200,000 worth of heroin hidden in the Harlem apartment of a man identified as Leon Lapola, who was arrested on a dope-peddling charge. The drugs were found under the floor boards.

Police History is Made As 33 Are Questioned

By Leonard Zahn
Special to the Bulletin

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—A huge lineup of 33 hood suspects—24 of them seized in the $1,500,000 Brink's robbery investigation—was staged at police headquarters today.

It was one of the largest viewings of known criminals in recent police history, but failed to produce a key figure in the Jan. 17 holdup of the armored transportation service.

They're rounded up every two-bit hood in the North End, commented police Lt. James V. Crowley as he began questioning the suspects. The group was so large a double line had to be formed on the viewing stage.

MINUTE DETAILS
In another section of police headquarters investigators were taking biographic interviews from every employee of Brink's, Inc. Each was asked the most minute details of his job and activities before and immediately following the robbery.

Nine already had been questioned. All had criminal records for robbery and larceny and most had no visible means of support.

There were three suspects in yesterday's holdup at the exclusive matched a $150,000 payroll more after it had been delivered by Brink's.

Police Capt. Leo Huban said details of the Brink's, Inc. robbery and descriptions of the heist were arranged by Russell Memorial last Sunday, as reports of the various activities were processed.

Pastor Dr. A. J. Stephens, president of reports from the committees were heard. Mrs. D. Roper and Mrs. J. Stephens reported on Sunday school activities. Dorothy Carlett gave the financial statement and Rose Nakamura reported the activities of the Y.M.C.A. in the city.

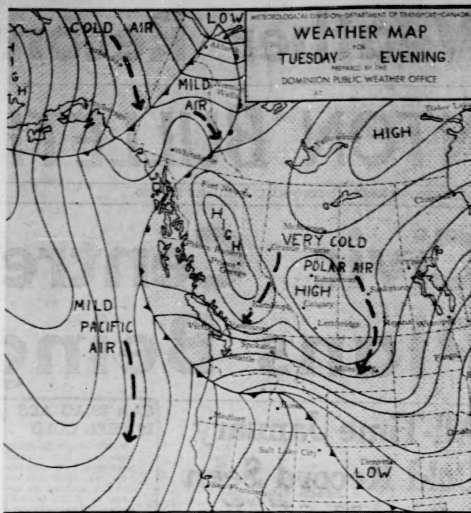

Church deacons, reported on mission bands. Bob Smith spoke for the choir, and Bill Warner contributed the report from the CGE.

All-Time Record For Cold Expected To Be Set In City

Weatherman Explains Map

By GEORGE W. ROBERTSON
Connexion Meteorologist

Last night was bitterly cold in central Alberta. A high pressure area over the region gave winter skies and light winds permitting temperatures to fall rapidly to very low values.

This high moved up from the Yukon where it was stationary for four days.

There, under clear skies and the long Arctic night, the air became bitterly cold.

As this cold air and high pressure moved southward it split, part going into southern B.C. and part into central Alberta. Both regions reported extremely low temperatures.

Indications are that the high pressure area, with the cold air, will continue to move southward and be replaced by somewhat milder and less severe pressure.

MILDER AIR
Falling pressures in the Yukon and northern Alberta on last night's weather chart were indications that a low, off the north coast of Alaska, was moving south-eastward.

This low will bring somewhat milder air with it.

Most of the mid air will pass over Alberta at high levels, however, and only slight moderation is expected on the surface.

One might ask how it is possible for milder air to come out of the south.

The answer is simple.

The larger weather maps at the meteorological office show that this air moved up from that part of the Pacific near Japan. As the air moved over Alaska it turned and is now moving south-eastward towards Edmonton.

Church Report Shows Progress
Reports presented at Monday night's annual meeting of Keweenaw United Church showed both congregational and Sunday school progress.

General receipts for 1955 were $1,000 in the history of the church. Building fund totaled $1,000 being raised.

Officers elected were: Thomas Clarke, Robert McKee, Herbert Ross, W. Jones, Angus Wolfe and John Thon.

New block of members consisted of: Mr. H. Evans (secretary), Jim McPherson, Dr. H. B. Jones, Percy Smith, Walter McDonald, John Gibson, D. H. Colby and A. E. Mack.

President of WA is Mrs. D. H. Colby and Mrs. T. J. Stanton being the first year as minister at Keweenaw.

Both TCA and CPA planes were busy for cargo flights to and from the beleaguered Fraser Valley area.

An embargo was placed on all but two types of mail. Only first class mail and medicine parcels were being accepted by postal authorities.

The coast weatherman forecast continued snow during the next 12 hours which is expected to blanket the lower mainland with another four to six inches.

Forecasters said it may be as bad as the blizzard which paralyzed the city Monday and caused a gridlocking for all waters along the British Columbia coast.

MINES ARE CLOSED
Several coal mines in the Yukon and British Columbia coal mines from operating today. Four mines in the Crow's Nest Pass and five other mines at Canmore, Lacnor, Colquhoun in Alberta and Michel, S.C. and Fernie, B.C. were again closed and approximately 5,000 coal miners idle.

Although the temperature at Rogers dropped to 50-below, miners reported to work this morning despite the hardships of working outside. The West Canadian Collieries Ltd. mine at Bellevue was also operating.

Several trucks were reported to have been backed through snowdrifts on the highway between Waterton Lake and Calgary.

The Alberta Motor Association report said, as they mostly hidden by fields of snow drifts. Many of the roads are recognizable only by the lines of fencing bounding them on either side.

Meanwhile, as the unprecedented cold spell continues, stock and sheep are suffering. Some districts as Pincher Creek, Lethbridge, Raymond, Manley, and Waterton are beginning to suffer some cattle losses, with serious losses in the offing should the cold continue much longer.

In Lethbridge, bus lines report no buses are operating west of the city to the Crow's Nest Pass and none from here through Vulcan to Calgary. All other schedules are being maintained.

SOUTH SHORT FUEL
Schools were closed in the Lethbridge area and stocks of coal and other fuels were getting low as a result of snow-blocked rail lines and highways.

Ed was being sought from the provincial police because of a blocked highway.

In Edmonton, where public schools are beginning to close, Christmas, because of blocked roads and snowdrifts, has been made to the government.

President of WA is Mrs. D. H. Colby and Mrs. T. J. Stanton being the first year as minister at Keweenaw.

Rev. T. J. Stanton is commencing his fifth year as minister at Keweenaw.

Storm Paralyzes North Dakota
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(AP)—A lashing blizzard—one of the worst in years—hit north Dakota today, stopping traffic, grinding planes, and stacking up snow drifts.

Of North Dakota's more than 7,000 miles of roads, only six miles—a stretch between Bismarck and Mandan—remained passable, the state highway department reported.

In other parts of the United States, city after city reported record-breaking warm January weather.

After breaking at North Dakota, the storm center moved on into Minnesota and headed northeast over Lake Superior toward Eastern Canada, parts of New England and New York State.

OTHER SPOTS WARM
A weather bureau cold wave warning forecast bitter weather in Minnesota, Wisconsin and North Dakota, as well as for the Iowa, Missouri, Oregon, and Central Idaho.

Cold, bitter winds wafted over wide areas of the northwest of the country. Temperatures were expected to fall from 10 to 20 below zero in the next 24 hours.

Home Markets Needed For Oil

Oil for certain sections of the North Central States to use Canadian crude instead of oil from far-off U.S. fields.

Canada, consuming 300,000 barrels a day could take a lot of Alberta oil, but markets presently in sight do not exceed 150,000 barrels a day on a year-around basis.

This amounting to 100,000 barrels will be available from the Red River field alone, with 20,000 to 40,000 barrels to spare.

OTHER FIELDS, TOO
Leduc with its 350 oil wells at present and with more than 400 in sight, could produce 100,000 barrels a day even if cut back to an average allowable of 80,000 barrels per day.

Turner Valley is still turning out 10,000 barrels a day. If this is cut back to 5,000 barrels a day, it will still be able to produce 10,000 barrels a day. This is 70,000 barrels in excess of the markets now in sight.

SEE OIL PIPELINE
Oil men believe that if U.S. markets were opened it would not be long to seek up the surplus, but if U.S. markets are barred, new outlets will have to be developed at home.

They view as a bright spot the oil pipeline in the U.S. which will carry 40,000 barrels a day on the Canadian Pacific coast and they foresee an oil pipeline in the U.S. which will carry 40,000 barrels a day on the Canadian Pacific coast and they foresee an oil pipeline in the U.S. which will carry 40,000 barrels a day on the Canadian Pacific coast.

On the whole, the oil men feel it would be best to develop new Canadian markets than to depend on questionable opportunities in the U.S. market, and no bet is being made on the U.S. market.

Oil circles are well aware that present field will not last indefinitely but they point out that the rate of discovery is good, a great wide area of potential oil lands has been uncovered, and at this stage they have not even considered, Stettin, Northville, or any new Leduc or Redwater that may turn up.

McGoun Cup Goes To B.C.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 25.—(CP)—The University of British Columbia last night won the McGoun Cup awarded for western Canada intercollegiate debating, after a 2-1 victory by the visiting University of Saskatchewan team.

Their one point was the deciding factor, since the travelling team of the universities of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and British Columbia all had won unanimous decisions.

The victory is the third for U.B.C. in 23 years.

Law students Don Leland and Alastair Fraser of the U.B.C. lost to Saskatchewan's Claude Elia and Carl Hamilton in taking the affirmative on whether "Communism is a threat to the world's peace."

Judges were Mr. Justice Coady, of British Columbia supreme court; Neil Cecil Swanson, of Church of Canada; and Ald. Alex. Fisher.

But Bath his 60 home runs in the 1927 season, a record that still stands.

Before leaving New Delhi, Pearson, acting for Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, presented Prime Minister Nehru with an album of photographs taken during the Indian premier's visit to Canada last year.

An accompanying letter, signed by Mr. St. Laurent, said: "We in Canada keep in our hearts vivid recollections of the memorable days last autumn when you, accompanied by your sister and daughter, visited our country."

McNaughton Becomes Canada's Ace Diplomat

By Norman Altstetter
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 25.—(CP)—With experience as a top-ranking soldier, diplomat, scientist and statesman, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton naturally holds down several jobs at once.

The week the 62-year-old McNaughton ends a two-year term as head of Canada's permanent delegation to the United Nations, he leaves for Ottawa Jan. 27 and a new post as member of the International Joint Commission—which oversees problems of waters which touch both United States and Canada.

Flying Clubs Told Air Role Is Important

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(CP)—Despite jet propulsion and new and faster aircraft, Canada's flying clubs will have a major light-aircraft role in Canadian aviation, according to Cdr. C. P. Edwards, deputy transport minister for air.

"Leave jet propulsion to the military and commercial people," he yesterday told the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association's 21st annual meeting, "and stick to ordinary flying."

WANTS "BUZZING" RULE

He paid tribute to the flying clubs for their efforts to keep flying accidents to a minimum and to keep member clubs solvent.

Cdr. Edwards said he would like to see a regulation dealing with pilots who "buzzed" the homes of their friends, often with disastrous results.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The Association elected Gordon F. Henderson of Ottawa as president. He replaced D. K. Ward of Edmonton, former president of Calgary flying club. He held the post two years.

E. R. McFarland of Lethbridge, flying club was elected vice president.

Midwestern zone—H. R. Soratun, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan—H. N. L. Kesteven, Regina; Ontario—M. W. Laing, London; Pacific—D. W. K. Sproule, Vancouver.

Western Artists Lag In Sending Nickel Designs

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(CP)—With suggestions ranging from the Dionne quintuplets to the pope, the Royal Canadian mint is being literally assailed with entries in the nickel-designing contest announced last week.

The government offered a prize of $1,000 for the best design for the back of the Canadian five-cent piece. The new nickel will complete the 200th anniversary of the isolation and naming of the metal known as nickel.

Mr. M. Macdonald, secretary to W. C. Ross, master of the mint, estimated yesterday that at least 500 designs have been received.

"Everybody and his uncle is having a go at it," he said.

Most of the designs have come from Ontario and Quebec. Others are beginning to filter in from the west and Maritimes.

Each design must provide space for the words "Canada" ("Futura," "Futura," "Futura") and the figure "1791-1961."

State Control Looms As Big Issue in U.K.

By Alan Harvey
LONDON, Jan. 25.—(CP)—A central issue in Britain's general election campaign is whether a man would and the state takes over.

Advocates of individual rights argue that state intervention in day-to-day living has gone too far. Britain, by this analysis, is a country planned within an inch of her life.

The Socialists reply that it is better to be planned than to be left to the blind economic forces which it blames for mass poverty and unemployment of the inter-war years.

If the choice is to be between planning and pot luck, the Labor Party will take planning.

FOR FIRST TIME

Says Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Labor's foremost expert on a planned economy.

"We have for the first time, based economic and financial planning of the government on the same sort of lines as any large sound business enterprise would use."

A different viewpoint has been expressed by Sir Colla Anderson, United Kingdom shipping magnate. While acknowledging that private business "are not a number of businesses" in boxes reserved either for the descendants of those who inherited them or for the first owners, he said that state control has dangers.

"Where will it stop?" Sir Colla asked. "The obvious difficulty is to define where we draw a line at which we can stand and say: 'I do not want to go any further.'"

Scientist Sees It As Easy To Make Big Hydrogen Bomb

By Joseph L. Myler
Exclusive to the Bulletin
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—An authority on atomic science today gave a four-point recipe for the hydrogen bomb.

1. Take a quantity of plutonium or uranium bomb of the kind now being manufactured.

2. Assemble a quantity of lithium deuteride (lithium combined with heavy hydrogen) at least as great as the weight of plutonium or uranium used.

3. Argue the lithium deuteride so that it envelops the plutonium or uranium at the moment of detonation.

4. Explode when and where directed.

This was in 1928. At about the same time the first transatlantic run of a diesel electric car was made by CNR in record time, he said.

Diesel operation effects a saving in fuel of approximately 25 percent, he said. One advantage is the ability to travel greater distances without refueling.

The trend is toward greater utilization of diesel by railways. Experiments now are being conducted in United States with coal-burning gas turbine locomotives.

There are still some diesel problems to be solved. Among these providing suitable boilers for heating passenger trains under winter operating conditions. Tests now are being made by the CNR between Montreal and Winnipeg in an endeavor to run out some of these problems.

Five Cows Unable To Eat Growth On 2 N.S. Acres

HALIFAX, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—Five cows on two acres of Nova Scotia pasture last summer couldn't keep the growth down.

That was the experience of farmer Bob Archibald, of Newton. He said an agricultural forum of a rough two-acre field of bushes, blueberry plants, lamb-kill, etc., was broken the fall of '46. It was then mowed, leaved and fertilized in '47 and last year the pasture mixture seeded the year before provided such excellent feed that it was possible to carry the five cows on the two acres for the summer months.

The cows could not keep the pasture trimmed down, he said.

Milk production, according to farmer Archibald, was well maintained, although the cows weren't laid any grain.

New Chemical Fights 'Hoppers'

REGINA, Jan. 25.—(CP)—W. H. Horner, Saskatchewan field crops commissioner, said today a new chemical, adrian, will be the major poison used to fight the grasshopper menace in adrian for the province this year.

The use of adrian in Saskatchewan will mark the first time it has been used on a commercial scale in Canada. It has been tested extensively in United States.

$62 PER CAR Gasoline Tax $124,331,000 In One Year

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—Some 2,000,000 Canadian motorists paid out $179,000,000 in car licences and gasoline taxes and used nearly 1,200,000,000 gallons of gas in 1946.

They paid out the greater amount for gas taxes. In 1946, this amounted to $124,331,000, the record gas consumption used by Canada's 2,000,000 registered cars in that year.

There were 874,903 cars registered in Ontario in 1946. This was more than the total for the three Maritime and four western provinces together. Quebec had a total of 385,903.

Roads to Mines New Federal Plan

Project of 1930's Is Revived; Alberta Again Sees Ignored

By Ronald A. Nickerson
Exclusive to the Bulletin
OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(BUP)—The government is considering revival of federal aid to build roads in isolated mining areas, a cabinet source said today.

He said the objective was to open up cheap transportation routes into proved deposits of mineral wealth.

At the moment, he said, several rich mines were running far below their potential production because of high costs in getting bulky-needed equipment into the areas by road.

ALBERTA NOT MENTIONED

The program was expected to be introduced at the coming session of Parliament.

It would call for federal expenditures of close to $1,500,000 a year on secondary roads in the northern parts of Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia. Each province in most cases would contribute one-third of the total cost of the roads.

The cabinet official cited the Lynn Lake region of northern Manitoba as one example of a rich ore-bearing area capable of tremendous expansion. He said the only deterrent was a lack of good secondary roads able to stand under heavy truck and trailer traffic.

Similar conditions existed in certain sections of northwestern Ontario, northern Quebec and British Columbia, he said. The government decided to name specific instances, however.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—(CP)—H. A. Mason of Edmonton dairy produce dealer for the Western provinces, said last night that some manufacturers are producing butter with a water content of more than 16 per cent.

He told the Manitoba Dairy Association, meeting here in an annual convention, that in the past, butter was produced in the United States and Canada but that in the past few years, the percentage of water in Canadian butter to make first grade was 22%, a "remarkable improvement" of 74 per cent from 1948.

Starring Jeanne Crain in the title role, the show emerges as one of the most profoundly moving of screen dramas of the year.

Pinky suffers indignation and squalor, and comes to see that the many choices to be made of herself. She has been trained in the north as a nurse.

Though initially, by accident of her almost-white skin, she is the personification of the broken color line, in the south she cannot break through.

She prepares to set herself free and return north, when her negro grandmother begs her to stay and nurse her dying mistress.

It is then Pinky learns that the gradations of the human heart are as valuable as those of color.

After the mistress's death, Pinky inherits her mansion, and converts it into a refuge that will serve the colored.

The warmth of "Pinky" is a tribute to the writers, Philip Dunne and Dudley Nichols.

One Brother Enough But Actor Disagrees

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.—(AP)—"That's Bob Mitchell's brother, John—no talent."

Those were the hard words heard by young John Mitchell as he toured the talent agencies looking for film work.

"Having a famous brother practically closes the door in your face," says John. He has been struggling for the last few years to escape the shadow of his noted brother.

He is finally making some headway but it hasn't been easy.

"It seems to be a popular opinion that if one member of a family is talented, all the others must be dumb. Police advised me to change my name, and I tried that, too. I was Craig Morris, and introduced myself that way to an agent, who, 'bello, Johnny,' he said."

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Here is a different kind of story about a film veteran Hollywood passed by.

His name is Herbert Brenon and he just turned 70 last week. Among his birthday resolutions was one to get back into the film industry, which he first entered in 1909.

Brenon's name means nothing to the new generation. But if your movie memories reach back to the other days, you've seen pictures he directed.

Remember Ronald Colman and William Powell in "Beau Geste"? H. B. Warner and Nick Archer in "Kismet"? And "The Sign of the Cross"?

Those were Brenon pictures. For many years he was one of Hollywood's top directors. Then, as it must be nearly everyone in the movie, he began to slip.

"I was 62," he recalls, "I was wearing a complete nervous breakdown. Also, I realized that I had passed my peak. There was nothing left for me but to direct less important pictures."

—WIFE'S WISDOM
"I didn't want that. One of the things that depresses me about out on an assembly line basis. They lack the individuality that directors of the past were allowed to inject."

We discussed the recent action of former film chief B. P. Schulberg, who pleaded for a job in ads in the film trade papers.

"I think he was unwise," the film veteran said. "The only way you can get consideration in this industry is by having something to offer that is wanted. You cannot do by sentiment."

"You find little gratitude in any industry — and that is especially true in the motion picture industry."

Three Killed

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Three men were killed and a score or more were injured today in an explosion on the Australian tank-laying ship Tarakan.

Rescuees used acetylene torches to cut through the side of the ship to reach the burned ratings. First reports said the blast was caused by gasoline.

Action in Month B Wheat Council Will Decide if Germany and Japan May Become Members

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(CP)—Efforts are being made to decide within 30 days whether to restrict wheat purchases by Germany and Japan if they become members of the international wheat agreement, American sources said today.

These informants said Britain wants to restrict wheat purchases by Germany and Japan.

Action within 30 days would make it possible for the wheat council to act on admission of western Germany and Japan at its meeting scheduled for late in February.

UK WANTS LIMIT
The British proposal would limit German and Japanese wheat purchases to amounts in excess of agreed upon exports now supplied by producers in non-dollar areas.

Informal sources here said that by such restrictions Britain hoped to prevent any interference with British wheat purchases in non-dollar areas by Germany and Japan.

The U.S. position is understood to be that Germany and Japan, if admitted to the wheat conference, should be permitted to make purchases on the same basis as other importing nations buying through the international wheat pool where any purchaser can obtain wheat.

Informal sources said that Britain has the Australian wheat aspirant in mind in seeking to restrict German and Japanese buying.

American delegates to the London conference of the wheat council 10 days ago expressed belief that Germany and Japan would be restricted by the wheat council. The restrictions proposal delayed action. The question now will be whether for another 30 days by the wheat council's executive committee.

Informal sources say about 100,000 bushels more wheat will be shipped from exporting countries if Germany and Japan become members of the pool. This additional supply would be available about 25,000 bushels (100,000 bushels for Japan and 60,000 bushels (180,000 bushels) for Germany).

Members of the wheat council executive committee say they are going to get an agreement within the next 30 days.

Canada is looking to the future in asking for a share of any wheat export to Germany and Japan should they become members of the international wheat agreement.

Government officials in Ottawa say the fact that Canada is asking for a share of any Japanese and German export quota under the agreement does not necessarily mean the now is overstocked with wheat.

However, officials say Canada must look to the future. While she has no trouble selling wheat during the current crop year, she may run into difficulty in the next year.

The United Kingdom, her biggest customer, already has indicated she will buy purchases of Canadian wheat next year to save dollars. India, another commonwealth customer which purchased about 10,000 bushels in 1949 has placed no orders for Canadian wheat for 1950.

SMITH BROTHERS NEW WILD CHERRY BAIT HIT!
Thousands had delicious new cough drop taste sensation

"It was difficult," the report said, "for authorities to give credence to the account of the method employed in making the pills, as the workshop appeared of too high quality to be attributable to an amateur." "Engraving experts examined the plates and were of the opinion they had been turned out by an experienced technician thoroughly acquainted with the plate methods and using excellent tools. It was considered extremely improbable that any person could have achieved the system outlined by the account."

With this observation of doubt the matter stands. "It wasn't followed up," said one headquarters official, "unless some new evidence should arise. It's just one of those cases where you get so far and can't go any further."

Every day more Canadians discover this new cough relief from Smith Brothers Wild Cherry Cough Drops.

1. Taste so good.
2. Work fast : really help that cough from a cold.
3. Cost only a dime!

Yes, these tart Wild Cherry Drops are delicious—what if they work! Get a pack today!

Arctic Outposts Await Arrival Medical Team

By George Dobie
Special to the Bulletin
AKLAVIK, N.W.T., Jan. 25.—(BUP)—Hospitals are jammed with the sick in the remote Arctic outposts of Aklavik and Tuktoyaktuk in the delta of the Mackenzie River today as a measles epidemic continues to rage among the Eskimo and Indian population.

Bad weather prevented a medical team of four from reaching the stricken area from Edmonton, Alta., but a "line sense of comradeship" is prevailing among the sick and those fighting to save the sick.

This is how Canon C. R. Montgomery, in charge of the Anglican mission here, summed up what he termed a "great emergency."

He and his wife joined local doctors, nurses, other church officials and the natives themselves in the battle to stop the spread of the disease.

Ten natives have perished and more than 125 patients, including some who people are bed-ridden. Canon Montgomery, brother of Britain's famed Field Marshal Viscount Bernard Montgomery, placed his time in charge of organizing emergency hospital quarters.

STEADY WORK
The missionary said there are 76 patients in the 50-bed Anglican hospital. Nurses are spending all their spare time working around-the-clock in the other emergency hospitals.

Canon Montgomery said there are over 50 patients in the other hospitals. Sick natives are being brought to the hospitals from their scattered homes in the delta by airplane and some are on a temporary basis owned by George Roberts of Aklavik.

WANT REST
Canon Montgomery expects the steady arrival of the sick will soon ease and the situation would become less critical.

He also says that volunteers will be looking forward to the arrival of the medical team from Edmonton so they can get a rest.

The plane carrying J. P. Harvey and three nurses to the remote Canadian Indian hospital in the Mackenzie is grounded in a blizzard at Fort Norman, N.W.T.

Halifax Newsmen Give $1,000 to Start Opera

HALIFAX, Jan. 25.—(CP)—This old port which has just finished having its cultural difficulties being the Massey Commission, has decided to start doing something on its own—establish a permanent opera.

Before the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences, various groups talked of the need for a permanent opera company in the regional system which would see the Maritime—off the beaten track of touring players and artists—dig into the national cultural bag.

Frederick drama, art, music, opera and ballet groups spoke of their need of some sort of federal financial support or help.

A few years ago a Latvian opera star—Marina Vetrá—died here as a displaced person.

He was enlisted as a singing teacher. His students developed and he formed an opera group.

His presentation of the classical Don Giovanni was made a part of the year's anniversary program. The Halifax press club sponsored repeat performances and made about $2,000.

Now the Press Club has told a mass meeting of citizens that it had been in the making for a long time. The Halifax press club sponsored repeat performances and made about $2,000.

Counterfeiter Tells Secret, Police Can't Believe It

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(CP)—A western Canadian, who claimed to be a native, said his police had more than a year after he was sent to a prison.

His counterfeit bills RCMP reports say are good in the way he described.

In his annual report, Commissioner N. T. Wood told that the counterfeit from a western city was finally caught in Elbow, Sask. He left a trail of bogus U.S. bills across the three provinces.

2 YEARS IN PRISON
He pleaded guilty in August, 1948, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary. He told in detail how he made the notes and his equipment was seized.

But the RCMP doesn't believe it. They say his bills were too good to be made by a novice at engraving with home-made equipment.

The report said the bills were "crisp, easily carried and the coloring uneven." But while they couldn't approve it, they doubted the man's story of how he—an "animator" counterfeiter—made the plates from a chunk of brass with a pin.

SPLIT ONE BILL
This was the story: "I took a $10 American bill and split it. I took each half and fixed them flat down on a glass plate using a mixture of varnish and plates in detail."

WORKMANSHIP TOO GOOD
Print and back of the bills were then glued together.

In his home, police seized the plates, an small printing press, and complete counterfeiting and a number of other items.

Experts at the crime detection laboratory in Regina examined the plates in detail.

Unfortunate Bidding Cost 2300 Points

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

One of the most talked of hands at the national card event, which was won by Charles Whitebrook and Gardner E. Goldstein of New York.

A great many pairs played the hand at four hearts in the West and of course had no trouble making.

Mr. Coldwell said the country as a whole should share the loss of $200,000 by Canadian agriculture and not just the farmers alone.

Bridge Stolen

Sold As Scrap; Eight Tons—$149

ATHENS, Ala., Jan. 25.—(BUP)—A 130-pound man and his 300-pound companion he needed to steal an eight-ton steel bridge resting up in the poker today.

The $25,000 Pines Creek bridge first was missed when a motorist found water—not steel—staring at his bumper. The bridge was located in two junkyards yesterday.

It's now on its way back to Pines Creek for reassembly.

"And this time," engineers said, "we'll build the darned thing down good."

Specialist John Sandlin said Fred Vickers, 30, the 130-pounder, realized he was too light to attempt the task alone. He called in 300-pound Woodrow Moore, 35. The bridge was sold at about a cent a pound—$149.

Pipers Ready to Skirl Haggis to Head Tables

By Hugh Dempsey
Bulletin Staff Writer
With a skirl of the bagpipes and a warm welcome from all good Scots, the haggis, "a great chieftain of the pudding," has come into its own for another year.

Since the days of Bonnie Prince Charlie, the haggis has been an integral part of Scottish life. In early days a steaming plate of haggis made up many a meal for rugged rural Scots. Nowadays, although it isn't a daily dish when the birthday of the immortal bard rolls around, folk from the highlands, lowlands and everywhere as usual favour the globe garter to honor the poet and to honour the old country fare.

SPEARHEADING DEFENCE against one of mankind's most lethal killers—cancer—is the Canadian Cancer Society, Edmonton district council last night elected officers and prepared plans for 1960 campaign. Jack Frost Takes Nip at Poor Bea

Today I have frost-bitten hands with ears to match, and I'm not one bit happy about the whole situation. With Jack Frost complete master of the situation for the past 40 days, my spirit is weakened. There's something about this weather business that just doesn't appeal to me.

And furthermore, I'm getting tired of feeling like a plump sausage every time I find it necessary to venture out into the cold, cold, cold. Snuggles, extra-heavy sweaters, mufflers, mittens may help keep you warm... but you must admit they're horribly bulky, bulky and decidedly a nuisance to put on and take off.

Even my fireproof long woollies have lost their charm and appeal as far as I'm concerned... not to mention those heavy fur-lined boots. I've listened to more than half a dozen winter friends wailing about their fate at the weatherman.

And about that woman called "Bea"... I do hope she's happy.

But to leave sorrow's of winter's hand, let's turn out in the cold that's a joke to me... let's have a look in another direction.

And there's no harm in looking in the direction of steak and mushrooms... just happens to know where I can buy small T-bone steaks at 42¢ per pound today... and mushrooms at the same price.

And there's no harm in looking to the man who brandishes about 6¢ or 7¢ worth of nonchalant abandon. But today life will be the trick. Mmmmmmm... for a broiled steak with piping hot mushrooms... mmm mm.

Another method which requires no more than a few minutes of time is to... (text continues)

Juniors Ask About Grooming Problems

By Josephine Lowman

Q. "I am writing for our club, a group of 12 girls from a high school here in the city. We are all juniors and the majority of us are 16 years old. Will you help us with our problems?"

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Husband Gives Wife A Household Lesson

DEAR MISS DIX: Last year my husband made it possible for me and my eldest son to visit our relatives in Europe, leaving him and two other sons at home.

I was away for about seven months and during that time they never asked me to come home but tried me to stay as long as I liked and enjoy myself.

Naturally I was anxious as to how they would get along without me, but when I came back I found that they had done splendidly. The three of them had developed into fine cooks with the aid of the cookbook.

To my chagrin and surprise I found that my husband had saved the entire amount of our trip and had some money besides out of the housekeeping allowance, and when I asked him how he had done it, he proudly told me that he had worked out a budget plan and stuck to it.

I could not believe that they had saved money on what I had not always been able to get along upon, but they showed me in black and white and had the money to prove it.

Since I am back I feel that my husband is not satisfied with the way I run the house. He has turned over his part of the money, but gives me just as much as I need to run the house. He has changed his mind.

He does not give me a chance for an argument, and when I try to start one he shuts up like a clam and walks off. What shall I do?

ANSWER: Your husband has simply applied the same principles to running the home that he does to running his business. As it has been his business to be successful, so he wants to be successful in his home.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

He does not want to be a failure, and he does not want to be a failure in his home. He wants to be a success in his home, and he wants to be a success in his business.

out how you were wasting it. That was for a husband and wife need. shows only common sense in him. If you want to get the pay over love back again in your hands, you will have to prove yourself worthy of it.

As regards your final complaint, that your husband will no longer fight with you, perhaps that takes a little more out of your day, but it must make things a lot more peaceful. Also, it shows that he has been doing a lot of thinking while you were gone.

He has realized how pleasant a home can be in which there is no bickering, no dissensions, no cruel words tossed back and forth in the heat of an argument. He has thought how foolish it

B.C. Is Determined
Terrorism Will Be Stamped Out

By STEWART McNEILL
Special to the Bulletin

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 25. — (BUP) — Provincial police today held three Doukhobor leaders on 10 charges of conspiracy and arson, heralding the potential end of a half century of terrorism by the religious Russian sect.

Special prosecutor Angelo E. Branca, representing the British Columbia government, said police arrested Michael (the archangel) Veregin, leader of a small wife-swapping sect on Vancouver Island; Joe Podolsnikoff, Veregin's spokesman; and John Lebedeff, self-styled leader of 5,000 sons of freedom. Branca said Veregin was charged jointly with Podolsnikoff yesterday on one "unique" lengthy charge of conspiracy and four other counts dealing with arson.

STAMP OUT TERRORISM

"The government of British Columbia is going to stamp out the Doukhobor depravity and acts of terrorism," Branca told British United Press. "The arrest of these three men eliminates three years of investigation and the charges date back as far as Jan. 1, 1947."

The government counsel said the charges were laid against Veregin and Podolsnikoff at the Biltmore, B.C., by Police Staff-Sgt. Jack Hooker, Vancouver, and Sub-Inspector Carl Leinos. Veregin and Lebedeff were arrested in Nelson, B.C., by Sub-Inspector Robert Nelson of Nelson. Branca said the case would be dealt with within the next few weeks, and added he would fly to Nelson over the weekend to prepare evidence.

NUDE PARADES PROBED

He said investigations had covered nude parades, bombings and incendiarism by the fanatical Sons of Freedom, whose violence had cost the province an estimated $2,000,000 in the past 50 years.

The formal charge said the leaders had encouraged Sons of Freedom members to violate Canadian law. It said they had urged and encouraged to "parade and assemble in the nude, keep their children from school, and encourage the Doukhobors to commit adultery and share husbands and wives."

The Doukhobor history had been marked with sporadic violence since they came to Canada from Russia around the turn of the century. Fire raids and dynamiting by the freedomites were said to be the province's most heinous crimes against the Doukhobors, becoming too worldly and straying from their "forefathers' Puritanical teachings."

SLAVES IN GERMANY MINE RUSS URANUM

HAMBURG, Jan. 25. — (AP) — About 150,000 Germans are working in uranium mines in Russian-occupied eastern Germany, the west-German social democratic party claims.

In an 86-page report, the party says both men and women are drafted by the Russians for the work. Communist attempts to recruit volunteer miners at high wages did not bring in enough workers, the report says.

Married men are more likely to be drafted than bachelors, the report claims. If a married man escapes from the mines, his wife can be drafted in his place.

All the miners are subject to Russian military law, the report claims. Informers keep a close watch on miners who refused to work on a Sunday, normally their day off, got 10-year prison sentences in Soviet courts, the report asserts.

Canada Said Planning Czechoslovakia Protest

OTTAWA, Jan. 25. — (BUP) — Canada probably will retaliate against the expulsion of two RCMP men from Prague by sending a protest note to the Czechoslovakian government, a government source said today.

CLERGYMAN JOINS RCAF

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. Jan. 25. — (AP) — Gordon Smith, of St. Mark's Anglican church in Dawson Creek has announced he has received an appointment to the chaplaincy in the RCAF. He expects to leave about Easter.

Pioneer Resident Dies In City; 67 Years Old

Resident of Edmonton for over 40 years, Mrs. Edith Helen Thomas, 67, 12098 88 street, died yesterday in this city.

Mrs. Thomas, widow of Cyril Allen Thomas, was born at Inverness, Ont., moved to Edmonton in 1909.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. W. Phillips of Edmonton, Mrs. R. Shearer of Calgary and Mrs. J. G. Vanier of Redoubt, Que., were declared persona non grata.

Funeral will be held from Foster and McGraw funeral chapel tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. and interment will be in the family plot at Edmonton Cemetery.

Tests Are Urged Before Hiring In Silicon Jobs

TORONTO, Jan. 25. — (CP) — A pre-employment physical examination should be required by the law in every industry where workers are exposed to the hazard of silicon, Dr. A. H. Kiddell of the silicon sickness board said here.

He said 60 to 70 per cent of all workers who contract silicon sickness eventually die of tuberculosis.

The ailment is a fibrotic condition of the lung caused by inhalation of silicon dust. Such conditions existed mainly in rock miners, quarries, sand-blasting, porcelain-making, moulding and rock grinding.

Stone walls of the Macdonald hotel contained laughter and gaiety last night, as employees and executives of Hudson's Bay Company gathered for one of the merriest banquets since May 2, 1970.

A record crowd of more than 600 men and women from the retail store, fur and wholesale departments attended.

Following the dinner, Miss O. Paquin, accompanied by R. Paquin, presented two classes in a full soprano voice. Miss T. Stickle and Miss E. Oul, with accordion and guitar, rounded up the evening's music with several popular songs.

Store manager, H. S. A. Johnson, extended welcome to all employees and company pensioners. Later were Ernie Sassim, Freddy Thibault, and Mr. Patsy.

Mr. Johnson paid tribute to the Beaver Club executives and the president, Jim Carmichael.

W. Wylie, of the advertising department, was master of ceremonies.

Raft Sighted

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Jan. 25. — (AP) — A Turkish pilot said last night he had sighted six persons in a life raft near the spot off Southern Turkey where a plane was reported to have plunged into the Mediterranean Monday.

The Turkish news agency, Anatolia, said the lost plane was a British craft outboard from Beyrouth, capital of Lebanon.

There were only three representatives of the Iron Curtain countries in Ottawa, he pointed out, and all were on the diplomatic level whereas the two Canadians concerned were enlisted men on the staff of the dominion's Air Attache in Prague.

POLICY MAKER

"When we got all the facts of the case, and hear the report of the two men, the matter will undoubtedly be decided on the cabinet level," the source said. "After that, there will be a matter of government policy."

"Although there's no absolute certainty about it, it will probably be decided to send a note of protest to the Czech legation here for transmission to the government in Prague," he added.

The two RCMP men, Sgt. R. W. Danko of Leduc, Alta., and Cpl. F. G. Vanier of Redoubt, Que., were declared persona non grata.

Funeral will be held from Foster and McGraw funeral chapel tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. and interment will be in the family plot at Edmonton Cemetery.
